OKIB is working hard to change the lack of workforce information available in our community. The Indigenous Labour Market Inventory Survey helps identify the workforce gaps and match community members with the right trainings and internal & external employment opportunities. The information given will be used to assist with finding employment levels and trends in the community and surrounding area.

Please Note:

Your Identity and information will remain confidential but not anonymous. This means that only the survey team, staff from Okanagan Indian Band will have access to the data that identifies you with your responses. This information will ONLY be used for training & employment opportunities.
